How to get free refund tokens in league of legends 2021

League of Legends. Photo courtesy of Riot Games. League of Legends. Photo courtesy of Riot Games.League of Legends, though free to play, can certainly get you to sink a lot of money into the game in order to buy champions, boosts, and cosmetics. Riot Games has done a great job in making the game easy, fun, and rewarding to play even if you've never spent a penny in their store, but some players cannot avoid the allure of the newest Ahri skin.If, however, you ever get buyer's remorse, Riot Games has your back. Riot Games is now offering a new refund token at the start of Season 10, which will allow you to get back your RP that you accidentally spent on something you didn't want.More from Blog of LegendsEvery League of Legends player can get one token, for free, by simply going to this link and logging into their account. Once you do that, BOOM, there should be a refund token waiting for you in your League client. These tokens have also been given out in the past and do not appear to have an expiration date, so you might be able to stockpile a few of them.Now, there are a few caveats that players should be aware of before they start spending their money willy-nilly. First, players are limited to three tokens per account at one time in order to prevent abuse. This means that if you already have a few tokens from previous seasons, you might not be able to claim this one without using one of your tokens.Second, and more importantly, not all purchases in the shop are redeemable with this token. Gifts, bundles, and promotional items are usually not able to be refunded with these tokens, so you might be out of luck for these items. Always make sure that the item can be refunded before purchasing it! Next: Top five moments from Warriors cinematic Still, this is a fantastic gesture from Riot and another indication that they put the player experience first. There is no time deadline before which you will have to claim your token, so no need to rush. But make sure you take advantage of this opportunity if you can! "Last November, we announced that we'll be overhauling rare and exclusive content systems, including Prestige, in 2021. If you don't have all of them, meaning you have less than three, a free refund token will be assigned to your account. Is there a way to get more refunds on fortnite? We understand that sometimes players will purchase cosmetics in-game that they no longer would like to use. Because of this we grant each player (3) three lifetime return tickets that they can use to return cosmetics they have purchased. We are unable to grant additional return tickets upon request. Most League of Legends players used up their precious refund tokens years ago. But now, to celebrate the 2020 season, Riot is giving them out for free. Refund tokens offer players the opportunity to refund a skin, a champion, or any other cosmetic goodie available in League's shop. If you misclick or simply have a change of heart, you can cash in one of your tokens for a no-questions-asked refund. Once you've used up your three tokens, though, they're gone for good. That's where Riot's new deal comes in. As long as you've used at least one of your refund tokens over the lifetime of your account, you're eligible for a freebie. It's hardly the most groundbreaking gift and it can only refund items purchased in the past 90 days, but it might just come in handy when you least expect it. To check if you're eligible for the refund token, simply click here and log in. Screenshot via Riot Games But remember, once it's gone, it's gone—so don't be hasty. While LoL is free to play, there are many ways to spend real money on this game. There are many items such as champions, skins, icons, and chroma packs that you can buy within LoL. Should you ever have regrets about your in-game purchases, you can ask for a refund.For League of Legends purchases including champions and skins, you can get a refund on the LoL client software by going to Store > Account > Purchase History. Select the item you want to refund from your purchase history and click "Refund" in the "Action" column, and you will get your refund immediately.For other purchases such as rune pages and chroma packs, you would need to submit a support ticket on the LoL Customer Support website to ask for a refund manually.Not all items are refundable. For example, you cannot refund promotional items or bundles.Contrary to popular belief, you do not always need a refund token to get a refund in LoL. If you refund an item within 7 days of its purchase, you do not need any refund token at all.Contact Customer Service.To contact League of Legend customer service, you can reach Riot Games support by calling, submit a support ticket, email, use social media or write them by mail. Riot Games does not have live chat or whatsapp support.Refundable ItemsThe following League of Legends in-game purchases are refundable and you can request a refund on them using your League of Legend client software (see the section above for step by step instructions on how to):ChampionsSkinsWard skinsIndividual chromasEmotesThe following League of Legends in-game purchases are also refundable, but you need to log in to the League of Legends Customer Support website to submit a support ticket to manually ask for a refund on them (see the section above for step by step instructions on how to):Rune pagesSummoner name changesSummoner iconsChroma packsNon Refundable ItemsUnfortunately, not all League of Legends in-game purchases are refundable. The following items are not refundable under any circumstances:BoostsAccount transfersBundlesPromotional itemsEsports summoner iconsGiftsHextech inventory (keys, chests, shards, etc.Event passesHow to Make the Refund RequestThe process of getting a refund on League of Legends is a bit confusing. For some in-game purchases, you can request a refund right on your League of Legends client software. For other purchases, you would need to log in to your account on the League of Legends Customer Support website and manually create a support ticket to ask for a refund.Also, you may or may not need a "refund token" to get a refund. It depends on how old is your purchase. We will look at refund tokens in more detail in another section below.Request a Refund on the Client SoftwareIf you want to refund Champions, skins, ward skins, individual chromas, or emotes, you can do it through your League of Legends client software.To request a refund using your League of Legends client software, follow the steps below.On your League of Legends client, log in to your LoL account using your username and passwordClick on Store, located in the upper right corner of the screenClick on Account, located in the upper right corner of the screen under your Riot Points (RP) and Blue Essence (BE) balanceClick on Purchase History, located along the left side of the screen right beneath AccountYou will see a table of all the in-game purchases you have made, with each purchase occupying its own row on the tableThe rightmost column of that table is named Action. This column shows whether a purchase is refundable or not. If a purchase is refundable, it will have the word Refund in its Action column. If a purchase is not refundable, it will have the words Not Refundable in its Action columnFrom your Purchase History table, select the item you want to refund. Make sure that item has the word Refund in its Action column, indicating that it is refundableClick on the word Refund in the Action column to initiate your refund requestYou should get your refund immediately, and it will be displayed in your RP or BE balanceIf you made a request for refund using your League of Legends client software, you will get a refund instantaneously. There is no waiting in cases like this. Request a Refund on the WebsiteIf you want to refund rune pages, summoner name changes, summoner icons, or chroma packs, you can only do so by submitting a ticket to the League of Legends customer service on the LoL website as these items cannot be refunded through the LoL client.To request a refund using your League of Legends website, follow the steps below.Go to the League of Legends Customer Support websiteSign in to your League of Legends account with your LoL username and passwordIn your customer support ticket, explain you want to get a refund and make sure you clearly specify the item you want to get a refund onWait to hear back from the League of Legends Customer Support teamIf your Refund Request was DeniedIf your request for refund is denied for any reason, the only thing you can do is to contact the League of Legends Customer Support team on the LoL website to plead your case.Riot Games, the company that develops League of Legends, has the final say on whether they will grant you a refund or not. So, there is not much you can do if Riot Games denies your request for a refund.What is a Refund TokenLeague of Legends' refund token allows players to get a refund on champions and cosmetic items such as skins. Each account comes with 3 refund tokens. If you bought something by mistake or simply changed your mind after purchasing an item from League's shop, you can use these tokens to get refunds.It used to be the case that each League of Legends user only gets 3 refund tokens for the entire lifetime of their LoL account. But Riot Games - the company that develops League of Legends - has since changed its policy regarding refund tokens.The new policy on refund tokens is that you will get to recoup one refund token each year if you have fewer than 3 tokens. On the other hand, you will not get any extra refund token if you already have 3 tokens. In other words, the maximum number of refund tokens you can hold at any given time is 3.One common misconception about refund tokens is that many people think they need to use 1 token for every refund they request. That is simply not the case.If an item is refundable and has not been used, then you can request a refund within 7 days of its purchase without needing to use a refund token at all.It is only when you want to refund an item after 7 days of its purchase that you would need to use a refund token.But even with the use of a refund token, you still need to make sure you ask for a refund on an item within 90 days of its purchase. After 90 days, you will not be able to get a refund no matter what.Once you have used a refund token, it is gone. You would have to wait for your yearly replenishment of 1 refund token. That is the only way you can get a new refund token.How To Get More Refund TokensAs mentioned in the section above, every League of Legends account starts with 3 refund tokens, and the only way to get an additional token is to wait for the annual replenishment event in which you would get 1 extra token if your account has fewer than 3 tokens.This replenishment event typically happens in early January each year. For most users, your account will automatically get credited with 1 extra token if it has 2 tokens or fewer during this event.Occasionally, some users may not receive the extra token even when their accounts are eligible. In cases like that, you would need to contact League of Legends' Customer Support directly to ask for your token.Go to the League of Legends Customer Support websiteSign in to your League of Legends account with your LoL username and passwordIn your customer support ticket, explain you are eligible for a replenishment refund token but have not yet received oneWait to hear back from the League of Legends Customer Support team. In most cases, you will hear back from Customer Support within 2 or 3 days and get your replenishment refund token how to get free refund tokens. how to get league tokens for free. how to use refund tokens league of legends
